

RONNIE MCDOUGALL.

1102 BREAKERS WAY.

(403) 870-3081

My lovely wife Lana and I have lived in Sunbreaker Cove since May 2021. We have been renovating the house and property since we purchased it. Originally from Calgary I have been the owner of Lanron Services Inc. contracting structural concrete and flat work as well as renovations. In 2005 we switched to Lanron Inspections performing home inspections, commercial property inspections and commercial electrical thermal scans.

People often ask where the name Lanron came from, Lana and Ron, Lanron. Lana has been instrumental in the forming of both the contractor and inspection businesses. Being Vice President of CAHPI Alberta (Canadian Association of Home and Property Inspectors) and a founding member and Vice President of APHIS (Alberta Professional Home Inspectors Society) I have years of experience in performing council duties and executing projects.

If I am successfully voted into council, I will be available anytime for discussions with an open mind. My experience in construction and inspections gives me a great opportunity to help with planning and executing projects (like the boat launch) and infrastructure. Being a full-time resident of Sunbreaker Cove I feel is important for fulfilling the duties of a council person.
